

TORREON'S FALL TO REBEL FORCES IS ANNOUNCED

Carranza Tells of Complete Victory of General Villa

Juarez, April 3.—Torreón fell completely into the hands of the rebels last night according to announcement here by General Venustiano Carranza at one o'clock this morning.

The news was announced to the world when the bugler in front of Carranza's residence blew the Staccato notes of victory. The paean, Carranza said, was sounded here even before it was heard in Torreón, Villa delaying out of compliment to his chief.

The meagre bulletins excitedly announcing victory after the bloodiest series of battles known to modern Mexico said that Villa captured a large number of prisoners, and that the remnants of the federals was being pursued.

Whether Velasco, the Federal commander was captured, was not stated. There was heavy fighting today. It is understood and the end came when after capturing the three remaining barracks held in the city by the Federals, the rebels stormed the branches and bathed in the entanglements of Canyon de Guadalupe.

The prisoners captured are believed to have been the defenders of the barracks, while the troops in the canyon which gives egress from the hill-top city were able to fly.

Methodist Conference Passes Resolutions to that Effect.—Interesting Address by Rev. James M. Buckley

The third day of the Methodist Conference opened with an evangelistic service conducted by Rev. J. O. Randall of Philadelphia, secretary of the general Conference Commission in Evangelism.

At 9 o'clock the Conference session opened and Rev. E. C. Strout offered a resolution favoring the National Constitutional Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic and the resolution was unanimously passed.

The calling of the young men in their classes of study and their admission into the conference on trial and in the full connection and elected to orders who are as follows: C. W. Frye, East Colebrook; William Weston, Greenfield; G. B. Cornish, Kittery; A. P. Gaines, Goffstown; C. G. Cole, West Manchester; H. O. Martin, Lebanon; J. K. Craig, Milford.

The address to the class by Bishop Hamilton, which dealt with the rules and doctrines of the Methodist church, the responsibilities of the candidate entering into the field and advice by personal experience to the class. This address was especially eloquent, brimful of interesting anecdotes and confessions in the Bishop's personal career.

At the conclusion of the address, the above candidates were unanimously elected members of the New Hampshire Conference.

The principal speaker of the morning was Dr. James M. Buckley of New York, who was especially interesting owing to the fact that he was first received into the conference in Portsmouth when it met here 55 years ago. The address was largely of a reminiscence nature.

Meeting of Laymen's Association.

The meeting of the Laymen's Association of the Methodist Conference was held at the North Church chapel, Middle street, Dr. H. E. Wilder, the president of the Association, being in the chair.

The meeting, which was to have been held at 10 a. m., was delayed for half an hour owing partly to the unavoidable absence of the secretary, M. H. Varney, of Manchester, being unable to be present.

The meeting was called to order at 10:30 and Mr. Abbott of Manchester was appointed secretary and treasurer pro tem, and read the minutes.

He stated that the Association was in its fifth year, and had recently issued a booklet containing all information in regard to the Laymen's Methodist Association, and that many copies had been sent out to members, and that there were some four hundred copies on hand to be disposed of.

After taking a count of all those that were present at the convention it was found that there were thirty-three delegates and fourteen visitors present.

It was proposed and seconded, that all those present who were not accredited members of the Laymen's Association as members of the Church Conference, should be considered as members of the Convention.

The subject under discussion and which occupied most of the time, was the proposed appointment of a duly qualified man of exceptional personal powers to raise the sum of $140,000, which with the $60,000 already promised would make up a total of $200,000. Seventy thousand of this sum was to be raised in cash and the other seventy thousand promised to be given to the Ministers' Aid Society on account.

In order to obtain the necessary $200,000 (the estimated expense for the salary and incidentals, such as printing, etc.), the Ministers had voluntarily taxed themselves two per cent, of their salaries for the next two years.

It was suggested by one speaker that the minister had to entertain, dress decently, upon his very inadequate salary and was unable to save money and that it was the duty of the church to whom these men had devoted the best part of their lives, to see that should age or infirmity overtake them, that not only they themselves but their wives should be duly protected.

Another speaker said that seeing that it takes nearly ten years of preparation before the Episcopal Methodist clergyman obtains his pulpit, and that the average duration of even a brilliant man's services at a large salary is only twenty-five years, as after that time he is either relegated to a smaller church, while the younger man is elected to take his place, or permanently retired, that he should be assured when he enters the ministry of a definite retiring pension which the church pays.

He added that the Y. M. C. A., the Presbyterian and the Baptist offer far better prospects than the Methodist church.

It is suggested that the year 1915 be specially set aside for strenuous and combined efforts to raise the sum of $5,000,000 for the superannuation of all ministers, and for the ensuring of a minimum salary of at least $800.

At present there is only one annual meeting held at which the election of the officers of the church take place, and it is highly recommended that another annual meeting in the course of the year be appointed for the discussion of vital questions by Laymen as well as Ministers, special stress being laid upon the gradual elimination of the Bible from our public schools.

Mr. Wilder, the president, blessed the text in the course of his remarks by a pithy anecdote illustrative of Abraham Lincoln's quickness of repartee.

A friend of Lincoln's asked him if there was not more work than pleasure to be President. Abraham replied: "You remind me of the Irishman, who having been ridden upon a rail, was asked the same question."

"The Irishman replied: 'Begorra, if it were not for the honor of the thing I would rather work.'"

REPUBLICANS MET AT EXETER ON THURSDAY

Rosecrans W. Pillsbury of London- derry and Refus N. Elwell the Principal Speakers

The Spring meeting of the Rockingham County Republican Club, held at the Probate Court Room at Exeter on Thursday afternoon, was of special interest as an enthusiastic opening of the campaign preliminary to the September primaries. It was the first gathering in the state in which candidates for primary nominations have been heard in the first speeches of the campaign.

Notable attendants were Colonel Rosecrans W. Pillsbury of Londonderry, candidate for Governor, and ex-Speaker Rufus N. Elwell of Exeter, candidate for the congressional nomination. They were the principal speakers of the whole talk.

In discussing state issues Mr. Pillsbury said in part:

"I am a Republican. I believe in the fundamental principles of the party platform, made by its founder, Abraham Lincoln. I would add to that platform the plank of higher civic thought and advanced political principle, to meet present conditions so that it will stand as it did in the beginning for the uplifting of the people and the highest welfare of humanity."

"I am in favor of conducting a more energetic campaign than ever before. We are going to win, in order to make our platform satisfactory to those who left the party two years ago, we should offer them in the Republican party many of those principles for which they contended, and again united, fight against our common enemy. This is the only way in which we can carry out our ideas of good government."

"In making my announcement a few days ago as a candidate for governor, I declared in favor of economy and a business administration. I propose to lighten the tax rate. The cost of state government has increased in the years beyond the increase in population and wealth. Never was the state tax higher than it is today, and the tendency is to increase, rather than diminish it."

"Last year and this without any big public works being paid for out of or-manly."

Fair Play For Railroads.

At a chamber of commerce luncheon held in an eastern Massachusetts city a few days ago ex-Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston severely arraigned the postoffice department for its treatment of the railroads in connection with the transportation of parcel post matter, pronouncing the course of the government nothing less than plain larceny. It has been contended by the railroads that they are not properly paid for carrying the mails since the parcel post was established, and this claim would appear to be well based unless they were overpaid before, as there has been no increase in the pay since the work of the parcel post was added.

Mr. Fitzgerald said that Congress should take up this matter and see that justice is done to the railroads, which are now compelled to carry merchandise at a loss. He said the railroad situation in New England and other parts of the country is bad enough and that the government ought not to unjustly place a further burden upon them.

On the face of the matter it looks as if Mr. Fitzgerald was right. The railroads of the country come under the heading of "big business," against which there is at the present time much prejudice, some of which is reasonable and much of which is not. But that is no reason why injustice should be done to the railroads. They should be compelled to serve the public efficiently and at reasonable rates, and all efforts to achieve that end will be endorsed by fair-minded people, who ask nothing but a square deal and will not knowingly seek to impose anything but a square deal. To this they are entitled, but no more so and no less so than the railroads.

This question of pay for carrying the mails should be settled on an equitable basis. The railroads should be given no advantage and the government should take none. The carriers are entitled to reasonable compensation for the work they do, and it is not fair to increase the work without raising the pay unless, as before mentioned, the roads have been overpaid in the past. It should be easy to ascertain where justice lies in this connection, and if the present rates are not equitable they should be replaced with those that are. The parcel post was established for the benefit of the public and the public should be willing, and is willing, to pay the cost without "hogging" any part of it out of the railroads.

The making of Medford rum in Medford, Mass., ceased some years ago and now the equipment is to be taken away, leaving nothing but the old building. But, to paraphrase a line of Tennyson, it may be said that while plants may come and plants may go, Medford rum will go on forever, at least until such time as beverages which both cheer and inebriate are things of the past.

This is the first year that migratory birds have been protected in the South by the government, and in consequence some are looking for an increased number of robins this summer. These have been regarded as game birds in the southern states and there is a hope that the protection they now enjoy will result in bringing more of them to the north country to spend the summer.

The farmers of the country are reported to be taking kindly to the efforts of the postal department to bring them in touch with city people through the parcel post, and there is every reason why they should. City people who want to buy farm products at first hand should also stand up and be counted.

A school of inmates of the Kansas penitentiary was graduated the other day with appropriate exercises, and each graduate received a diploma. Perhaps in future years there will be reunions of the "class of 1914."

CURRENT OPINION

If We Should Intervene in Mexico All Factions Would Unite Against Us.

If things keep on as has been the trend of events for the last few months in Mexico we shall have to offer the lives of some of our best young men for a cause to which I would not give a single life. I shall not vote to give the life of a single American boy for the life of old Mexico. I do not believe that in this day and enlightened age the American people should sacrifice thousands of people and millions of money to avenge the life of a British subject or a German subject even though he be killed by a Mexican outlaw.

Let me make a suggestion: I would set aside, if it were necessary to do so, the Monroe Doctrine, now almost a century old. I would say to all countries, "As in the case of China, let us go into Mexico and put an end to the murder of men and women; let us stop Mexicans from killing Mexicans; let us go and establish peace."

I'll stand by the president of the United States in his watchful waiting policy until the crack of doom if that means that no American soldiers are to be sent across the American border into Mexico. If America intervened every factory in Mexico would unite against America. It would be a war in which the United States would be successful, but thousands of our young men and millions of dollars of our money would have to be spent to do it. I am not willing to sacrifice one life or one dollar.—Representative Phillip Pitt Campbell of Kansas.

FAVOR PROHIBITION OF THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC

The Methodist State Conference on Thursday evening and was much enjoyed.

Capt. H. A. Fields, acting commander of the Navy Yard, was very thoughtful to invite the delegates to visit the navy yard and especially so when he gave them the use of the yard ferry.

A large display of drawn work and embroidery made by the inmates of the Van Kirk Industrial Home at Fitchburg, China, was on sale in the vestry of the church. The work is exquisite and beautiful; some pieces being remarkably difficult to make, taking much time and patience as well as hand work.

The Laymen's Association met in the North Church chapel on Middle Street on Friday at 10 o'clock.

There are about 300 laymen in attendance at the Conference today, besides the regular delegates and clergy. The Epworth League of the local church was exceedingly fortunate in obtaining the services of the Lotus Quartet to give a concert this evening.

The Lotus Quartet will be a decided treat to all the attendants of the Conference and a novelty to a great many.

A group picture of the delegates at the Conference will be taken in front of the church before the session closes.

There is much more important business to be transacted during the succeeding days.

Friday and Saturday will be the "big days" of the convention.

A very tempting dinner was served at the Middle Street Baptist church vestry this noon.

The exhibit of the Boston Correspondence School in the vestry is attracting much attention.

HALF MILLION FIRE LOSS IN ST. AUGUSTINE

Five Hotels in Historic City Are Levelled by Flames.

St. Augustine, Fla., April 2.—Historic St. Augustine the oldest city in the United States, early today was swept by a half million dollar fire, that destroyed five tourists' hotels and burned records and curios dating back to the days of Spanish rule in the 16th century. Two persons were seriously injured.

Guests in the hotels fled into the streets, many leaving valuables and personal belongings behind. Several escaped clad only in their sleeping apparel.

Rescue work by the employees of the Florida house where the fire originated, is believed to have saved many lives. Going through the smoked filled halls they quickly aroused sleeping guests and aided them in finding their way out of the burning building. Notwithstanding efforts of the Florida house employees about 200 guests who were slow in being aroused, were rescued by firemen with ladders. Although all persons remaining in the building were warned not to jump, firemen were unsuccessful in preventing two persons from leaping from the second floor of the Florida house to the ground.

They were Miss Alice C. Smith of Amherst, N. S., and W. F. Giddings, of Granby, Que. Miss Smith sustained an injured spine and broken leg. Her condition tonight was said to be critical. One of Mr. Giddings' ankles were broken and he was otherwise hurt, but physicians said tonight that he would recover. Several other persons received minor injuries.

As soon as the extent of the fire became apparent, Company G. of the Florida National Guard was called out and formed fire lines to keep the crowds back. Later they guarded the ruins of the burned buildings to prevent looting.

Besides the Florida house, the other hotels destroyed were the Munson House, the Clairmont House, the Central Hotel and the Atlantic Hotel. The St. Johns County court house, which contained many historic records also was burned. The records, however were in a safe and are believed to be safe. The Vedder House, one of the most famous landmarks of the city, and in which was kept the collection of the St. Augustine Historical Society was destroyed.

Much other property of smaller value was destroyed, including "several private residences."

The presence of mind of Charles Hopkins saved speed boats here for the Southern Championship Speed Boat races and valued at $50,000 from destruction. When the flames attacked the boat-house he cut the boats loose and pushed them into the bay. All floated to safety.

The first caused the postponement of today's races.

Ordinary receipts the tax rate has been $300,000 which is an increase of 60 percent over the figures which were customary for many years.

"I am in favor of reducing this tax by economy in the administration of government."

I believe the Highway Department, should be taken from the control of the governor and council and placed in the hands of a competent highway engineer at a fair salary, but the building of state roads has been made a political football. We men of Rockingham county are familiar with the dilatory procedure of Governor Peck and his council in trying to choose between the several proposed routes for the road from Manchester. Every time the executive council rode over the Nutt and Mammoth roads in junkets, every time hearings were given and needless sessions of the council held there was a cost to the state of $40 a day and additional expenses for dinners and automobile hire. The highways should be immediately taken out of politics.

The expenses per diem paid to the council during a year of the Quinby administration, from September 1, 1909 to September 1, 1910, amounted to $3,434.19; during a year of the Bass administration, from January 1, 1911 to January 1, 1912, amounted to $6,918; and during a year of the Peck administration, from January 1, 1913, to January 1, 1914, amounted to $9,472.16. The increase of cost of the present executive council is one-half over that of the Bass government and more than 200 per cent over that of the Quinby administration. No council ever took so much money out of the state treasury as the one now in office.

fice. This is a sample of Democratic economy.

"If I were governor I would appoint no member of my council to a salaried position. Councilors Badger, McGreggor and Sawyer have all succeeded in connecting themselves with the state payroll as commissioners of judges I believe this is unreasonable and should be made illegal.

"The Republican party has a splendid opportunity this year to carry the state. Thousands of disgusted Democrats, thousands of those who left the Republican party recently because of its weakness, today welcome a movement of regeneration in our principles and methods.

"I am aware that there are those interests within our party which are forgetting together only on a man of their own delusion and having seen fit to attack me this year as they did in previous campaigns when I advocated most of the reforms which have been brought to pass in spite of their opposition. But my appeal this time is directly to the people, and if time, strength and energy count for what I believe they do, such opposition can be overcome. I propose to conduct from the beginning a clean, aggressive campaign, meeting the voters in all counties and appealing for support on a liberal Republican platform."

Col. Elwell spoke briefly on state and National issues President John W. Baker of Exeter presided over the meeting, and others who spoke briefly were Herbert Perkins of Hampton, candidate for state senator; George A. Wood and John Torrey of Portsmouth, local S. Bartlett of Kingston, William H. Mould of Fremont, W. B. Underhill of Chester, Herbert W. Smith of Newfields, and from Exeter: General Stephen H. Gale, Samuel K. Bell, Edward E. Nowell, Clarence M. Collins, Frank M. Cilley, Fred A. Moore and William H. Sleeper. Stewart E. Rowe read an original poem.

TEXTILE WEEK IN BOSTON

About everything new and old in use for economical production of cloth from cotton and wool will be displayed in Mechanics Building, Boston, during the week of April 27-May 2 when the Fourth National Textile Exhibition will be held. It will be Textile Week in Boston, for thousands of experts in the industry will be in the Hub to attend the many conventions of associations within the industry that are to be held in connection with the exhibition which is to be the largest ever held in America.

To the lay man who is interested in things mechanical, the coming Textile Exhibition will be nothing short of phenomenal for many of these wonderful machines that seem almost human will be in operation during the show turning out the finished product. During the two years that will have intervened since the last show there have been many wonderful improvements in textile machinery and with many of these in operation the Textile Show ought to be the most interesting exhibition in Boston for many years. The coming show will occupy 125,000 square feet of space, and will be five times larger than any previous show of its kind in the United States.

From way down South there will be several hundred textile experts who will come from Norfolk, Va. This party will be made up of members of the Southern Textile Association which will hold its convention in Boston during the exhibition. The National Association of Woolen and Worsted Overseers; the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers; the Southern Textile Club of New England will also hold their conventions during Textile Week. The American Cotton Manufacturers' Association who are to meet in New York have changed the date of their meeting so as to give the members a chance to come to Boston and visit the Textile Show.

TESTIMONY ENDS IN RATE CASES

Rea Favors Steel Cars and Maintenance of Road
Equipment.

(Washington, April 2)—Testimony of the eastern railroads in support of their application for a five per cent increase in freight rates virtually was concluded before the interstate commerce commission today by President Samuel Rea of the Pennsylvania system. Beginning tomorrow the case and rail shippers will be heard in opposition to the increase.

President Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio, Delano of the Monon, Smith of the New York Central will be recalled for cross-examination as soon as counsel can digest their evidence.
Mr. Rea was on the witness stand nearly all of today. His statement and discussion of the financial condition of the eastern railroads related concretely to the Pennsylvania system, but he indicated that his observations and conclusions applied alike to all of the lines.

Mr. Rea went on to say that only recently the Pennsylvania and some other lines had been obliged to curtail their operating expenses by laying off employees and reducing the number of trains operated, because of the falling off of the freight tonnage and passenger traffic, which had produced a heavy decline in revenues.

"It is regarded as sound policy to replace wooden with steel equipment," Commissioner Clark inquired during the examination of Mr. Rea.

"We so regard it," said Mr. Rea.
"Although the initial expense of steel equipment is much greater the capacity of the cars is also greater. The convention however, costs a great deal of money."

Both Mr. Thorne and Mr. Lyon ascused in the case questioned Mr.

Rea as to the recent large expenditures of the Pennsylvania for maintenance and why such charges had greatly increased.
Mr. Rea replied that maintenance charges naturally varied from year to year; in lean traffic years being less and great traffic years more.
"In 1908, for instance," said he "we did not buy a single rail because of the panic of 1907. That was a mistake, and it will not be repeated. So long as I remain president of the Pennsylvania the property will be well maintained, whether our business is good or bad."

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

Don't Hesitate! A Laxative Is Necessary If Tongue Is Coated, Breath Bad Or Stomach Sour

Give California Syrup of Figs at once—a transporeal today often saves
a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out of sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cass, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, or has stomach-ache, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little ones' liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they thereby lose its delicious taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of California Syrup of Figs then see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. Don't be fooled.

1914, AND THEN WHAT?

A certain preacher has declared that
A. D. 1914 would witness the Second Coming of Christ. He allowed the inference that Christ is coming the second time to see that none of the churches are included while the earth is being burned up and the human race blotted out.

Such deductions belong to the Dark Ages, when public teachers seem to have lost all appreciation of pacific and dignified language or mental imagery. Such deductions ignore and contradict the plain statements of the Word of God: "The earth abideth forever." (Eccl. 1:4). After this I will return and will build again the tabernacle (house) of David, which is fallen down; and I will set it up (repeated three times for emphasis);
that the residue of men might seek after the Lord and all the Gentiles upon whom my name is (now) called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things. Known unto God are all His works from the beginning of the world." These are the words of the Apostle James, recorded in Acts 15:
16-18 as he quotes from Amos 9:11-12 and applies it to a day future to his own. In these days we see the work of buildings again the ruins of David's House, the Jewish nation, going on at Jerusalem. What does it mean?

A REALLY TASTELESS CASTOR OIL AT LAST

Good-bye, drugs and pills!
The perfect laxative has arrived—
Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil—made tasteless by a method which chemists have tried to find for 3,000 years.

Kellogg's Castor Oil is a better castor oil than the old evil-tasting, even-smelling kind. While none of the taste remains none of the good has been taken out. Kellogg's Tasteless operates quickly and freely, without grip-ing, causes no gas, and does not turn the stomach. Children take it easily and retain it.

This drug stores have all been supplied. You have only to ask for Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil, 25c or 50c size. It is not sold in bulk. The trade mark is a green castor leaf on the label, bearing the Kellogg signature.

Made only by Spencer Kellogg and

table oils for four generations.

Good Men Have to Go
Regardless of the fact that the force of patternmakers at the Portsmouth yard are recognized by the department at Washington, among the last of any yard in the country, a discharge has been ordered to take place on Monday, next among this branch of mechanics.

It seems as if, with the near increase of work some provision for holding these men could have been made, particularly as five weeks ago a call was made for these men or others, and few responded. It is this feature of this department of the yard that has driven several of the best patternmakers to seek work in other trades at the yard, even at less pay, or else refuse a call when made.

Won't Have Time
The time is so short that the crew of the Tacoma have decided to give up the plan of conducting a concert and ball in this city this month.

Fifteen Days Furlough
Richard Jones, blue printer in the machinery division is passing fifteen days furlough at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Hurry the Leonidas
Orders from the department direct that the work on the Leonidas be completed by April 10. This vessel is expected to sail about the middle of the month and will put into Boston
for some boats for the Panama canal.
If the vessel cannot be made ready in the specified time extra shifts of workmen will be added by the several departments.

New Commander
Lieut. Commander Walter M. Falconer has been ordered to command the U. S. S. Leonidas in place of Commander S. B. W. Kittelle detached, and placed on sick leave at Boston.

Started Today
Work on the approach of the new yard bridge was started today on the Kittery side. The work will be done by the public works department and will cost approximately $25,000.

STEAMSHIP LINE SOLD

WANTS TO LEASE CITY PROPERTY FOR AMUSEMENT PARK

City Council Hears Petition of Promoters--Resolution of Thanks to Senator Hollis--Other Business.

There was a brief session of the Mayor and City Council on Thursday evening and with but little to consider. It was 8.15 when Mayor Yeaton called the meeting to order with Councilman Herrick the only absentee.

A petition was received from John W. Sherrett, asking the City Council to lease him the land on Sagamore avenue, between the creek and the Wentworth road, for a period of ten years, at a rental to be fixed by the Council.

Mr. T. P. Brice and John W. Sherrett appeared before the Council in favor of the petition and they explained that they had recently purchased the adjoining land for an amusement park and they simply desired a lease of the land so that they may have control of it, and be able to prevent disorder there as well as on their own property. They agreed not to put any buildings or tents on it and the city were at liberty to take gravel or anything else from the land, while they had the lease. In reply to a question of Councilman Dowdell, they stated that they would erect a rustic theatre, a dance hall, bathing and boating pavilion, etc.

On motion of Councilman Bennett the matter was referred to the Board of Public Works to report to the Council as there is a gravel pit on the property.

A petition of J. Spencer Lilley and others for an electric light on Rockland street was referred to the committee on lights to report.

A petition of the Portsmouth Gas Company for right to lay mains on Bartlett street, Woodbury avenue and Maplewood avenue, was granted.

A petition of D. W. Trefethen to encumber Porter and Fleet streets for building purposes was referred to the Board of Public Works.

A petition of C. H. Stewart to encumber Bow, Daniel, State and Water streets for the purpose of moving a building was referred to the Board of Public Works.

The auditor's pay rolls for April were approved and the Mayor authorized to draw his warrant for the payment. The auditor's report of bills amounting to $2,115.98 were ordered paid.

Councilman Bennett for the special committee on the purchase of a Pulmotor reported that the Portsmouth Gas Company had purchased one and that would be enough Mayor Yeaton added that the Pulmotor had been placed with the police department for use, through the courtesy of the Gas Company.

A resolution extending the thanks of the Council to Senator Henry F. Du-

Bo, for his good work in getting the contract for building the submarine torpedo boat at this yard, was passed. Adjourned to May 7th.

FROM THE WOMEN OPPOSED TO SUFFRAGE.

Who Are the Anti-Suffragists?

The suffragists are in the habit of describing the women who oppose them as allies of the saloon-keepers, the white slavers and other agents of iniquity. With a delicate courtesy and admirable self-restraint which perhaps foreshadow what may be looked for from the political woman, Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, President of the National Woman Suffrage Association, has described the anti-suffrage leaders as "cultures looking for curia, and as 'protectors of the liquor interests, food doppers, child-labor exploiters, white-slavers and political bosses' and has said that they 'only serve the purpose that, by holding out their skirts, they act as a screen for the liquor traffic, the gambler, the vicious, and those interested in dance halls and places where young girls are ruined.'

It may be worth while to glance for a moment at some of the women whom Dr. Shaw thus describes. Take the Massachusetts Anti-Suffrage Association for example. The President, has been for many years on the State Board of Charities, was one of the first woman overseers of the poor ever elected in the state, and has been for many years one of the managers of a large private hospital. One of the vice presidents was for many years Dean of a woman's college; another is President of the Woman's Educational Association and Vice President of the Woman's Municipal League; another has been for many years a Director of the Massachusetts Prison Association and a member of the Massachusetts Child Labor Committee; another was for twenty years on the Massachusetts Prison Commission, and is Director of a hospital. One member of the Executive Committee has been on the school committee of her town twelve years, is trustee of a library, a manager of the District Nursing Association work; another is vice president of an improvement society work another is vice-president of a Home for Aged Women; and one of the managers of a Home for Crippled Children; another was for many years President of the Consumers' League; another is on the State Library Commission; another is prominent in the Society for Improved Housing of the Poor; another is President of a Village Improvement Society and Vice-President of a Hospital League; another has been chairman of the Sanitation Department of the Woman's Municipal League; another is Director of the Massachusetts Milk Consumers' Association, Director of the Department of Public Health of the Woman's Municipal League, and Chairman of its Committee on Infant Social Service, which was the pioneer in introducing pre-natal work among the poor; another is Treasurer of an Industrial School; another is on the board of management of a Home for Workingwomen, a Home for incurables, a Woman's Free Hospital and an Industrial School for Crippled Children; and another is connected with the work of the National Woman's Civic Federation and the Boston Widows' Society, and is a Visitor for the Massachusetts General Hospital.

These are the women who are opposing the anti-suffrage work in Massachusetts, and women of a similar type make up the official boards of the sixteen State Anti-Suffrage Associations and the National Anti-Suffrage Association and thousands of the same type are found in the rapidly-increasing membership of these Associations. They are disinterested, public-spirited women, who give their time and strength freely to charities and philanthropies and measures for the public welfare without any thought of recognition or political preferment. They oppose woman suffrage because they believe it to be a menace both to women and to the state, and because they believe that the interests of women and children can be better served by disinterested and non-partisan influence than by thrusting women into the strife of politics and loading them with men's responsibilities.

What Sort of Women Are to be Considered?

In discussing the question of the wisdom or the unwisdom of woman suffrage, the type of woman to be considered is not the woman of leisure, restless to find some avenue for her activities; nor the spectacular woman—the woman of cross-country hikes, of street parades, of snap-box oratory nor the young woman fresh from college, who has not yet found herself nor had time to appraise fairly the values of life; but the average normal woman. Mr. Greef closes his paper with a quotation from a well-known Colorado woman, who professes to agree heartily with the opponents of equal suffrage who declare that woman's place is the home, and who bases her own enthusiasm for suffrage on the conviction that it is in the interest of the home. This would be a good note to close on,—if only it were true. But it is not. The average woman of the home is busy,—in the vast majority of cases happily busy,—with the cares of the home and the rearing of her children. She has no sympathy with Mrs. Juez Milobard's Bosseval's commendation of "ten minute a day housekeeping" nor with Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman's advocacy of state nurseries for children, and her argument that "if the child is not seriously ill, the nurse is as good as the mother. If the child is seriously ill, the nurse is better." The average, normal woman has the average, normal womanly instincts; and her time is fully occupied and her strength fully taxed by the duties to which they lead. If she has to make and maintain her own home so some form of industry, her time is still fully occupied and her strength often unduly taxed. In either case, it is no kindness to ask her to assume a part of man's work in addition to her own. Her interests, so far as legislation can affect them, are increasingly well protected,—far better protected, on the average in male suffrage states than in equal suffrage states. The suffrage is in no sense a right; it is not primarily a privilege; it is first of all an obligation,—and not an obligation which can be met, as the suffragists lightly assert, by dropping a piece of paper in a box on the way to market.

The great majority of American women do not want the ballot. The suffragists themselves admit the fact,—sometimes by implication, when they strenuously resist every proposal to find out the wishes of women through a referendum, and sometimes by direct and unguarded statements; as when the Boston suffragists distributed flyers under the heading "Votes for Women" containing this statement: "Remember! The majority of women don't want to vote. The majority never wants a progressive measure." In other words, the majority must have the burdens of the suffrage thrust upon them because a small and noisy minority thinks that suffrage is a progressive measure.

After the overwhelming defeat of the proposed suffrage amendment in Wisconsin in 1912, Mary Swath Wagner, founder of the Practical Equality League of that state, gave as an explanation of the defeat "the appalling indifference of the women," and added: "When the women themselves showed so little eagerness to obtain the ballot, it is not surprising that many men who really believed in equal suffrage decided it was best for the women to wait awhile." And Elsie Meredith, returning to Chicago in September, 1912, after campaigning in Ohio, asked to explain the overwhelming suffrage defeat in that state, said: "In an interview in the Denver News of September 9: 'The first great underlying cause of the defeat was the women themselves were so many of them either very cold or indifferent. They didn't make it evident enough that they cared.' "The defeat lies chiefly at their doors."

The Real Issue.

In Massachusetts, the Woman Suffrage Association claims a membership of 40,000. But the women of the State, of voting age, number more than 1,100,000. Shall the principle of the control of the majority prevail? Or shall the 40,000 women the unequal burdens of the ballot upon. By more than 1,000,000? That is the real issue in Massachusetts; and the issue is the same in other male-suffrage states in which a similar demand is made.

Cottolene

Pastries, doughnuts and all foods are far more digestible when made with Cottolene. Physicians and expert dieticians have passed the verdict of science in favor of this clean, food-bettering product. Cottolene is pure and wholesome and should be used in all cookery.

The children will adore the cook who makes this:

COTTOLENE FAIRY GINGERBREAD

2-3 cup Cottolene; 2 1-2 cups sugar; 1-2 cup sweet milk; 3 eggs; 1 teaspoon soda; 1 tablespoon ginger; 7 cups flour (or enough to mix as stiff as can be rolled).

Cream Cottolene and sugar, add beaten eggs, soda dissolved in sweet milk and ginger. Add flour (as much as can be stirred in). Roll to about one-eighth inch thickness, in a sheet to cover bottom of a large, low baking-pan, score with fancy rolling-pin or springerle stamps, sprinkle with sugar and bake to a very delicate brown. Cut apart and remove quickly by passing knife underneath and stand on edge in a pan to cool.

Order a pail of Cottolene and just try these crisp wafers. Use Cottolene in all cooking, always using one-third less than you would of butter or lard, because Cottolene really goes farther. Also send to us for the valuable FREE Cook Book, HOME HELPS. Do it NOW.

TOWN CLOCK MAKES GAIN

Causes Many a Staid Citizen to Wonder Whether He Is Late for His Work.

If it had happened on April 1st instead of the 3rd, one would have thought it the work of some practical joker, but coming two days later, it must be conceded to be due to the mechanism of the clock. The above reference is made to the North church clock which this morning took some vigorous leaps in time and was from 15 to 30 minutes ahead of standard time. Persons who are accustomed to be at their work at 8 o'clock, were surprised on reaching Congress street and looking at the clock to see that it registered 15 minutes past the hour. In several cases they compared their own time piece and found there was a discrepancy of fifteen or twenty minutes in the time. Some could not believe that the old town clock could be so much out of the way and accordingly adjusted their watches to correspond with the time in the church steeple and hurried on to their work only to find later that the clock had lost its usual sedateness and taken some rapid strides in time.

IN WRONG CAR.

Passenger Takes Buggy of Freight Train for Parlor Car of "Flying Yankee"

He did not care what kind of a train he rode on and he took the first one that came his way. On Thursday night a west-bound freight train hauled into the depot and the rear brakeman left the buggy to flag in the rear. When he got back he was surprised to find in the conductor's chair a man fast asleep who said he was going to Boston and who thought he was in a parlor car. He was directed to wait the arrival of the "Flying Yankee" which came along a few minutes later. It was hard work to convince him that he was mixed up in the train service, but he finally got together and gave up the reclining chair of the buggy for a seat in a smoker.

Headquarters for water glass at the Tilton Drug Store. We can save you money.

Friday and Saturday A Bargain With Satan—Three parts. A big multiple feature of wild Bohemian life, founded on Alfred de Musset's immortal "Physicist Allegory." Repaid—in two parts. A remarkable dramatic picture of intense interest. The Musician's Wife—A delicate little story of real decoration. The Crucible—A picture of the best. The Mutual Weekly—A story of all the news of the week in pictures. Film Johnnie—Another one of those Keystone comedies. Miss Belle Barron will sing: "I Wish You Would Keep Out of My Dreams" and "Tango Tokio."

The Herald Hears

That it was surprising to see all the volunteer firemen that got in action when the small blaze broke out on Congress street on Thursday. That that bunch would smother any fire in 10 minutes. That the North church clock took on some speed early this morning. That it gained 20 minutes in two hours. That more than one man arrived at work today earlier than usual. That the funny part of it was the setting of many a watch by the clock in the tower. That some of the clerks who open up at eight nearly had heart failure when they discovered the overtime work and that they had turned the key in the door at 7:40 a. m. That the man who worked the overcoat deal on Congress street on Thursday pulled off a good one. That the boys are enjoying a good laugh over the Spring garment toady. That some boob scientist says that telephone operators are full of electricity. That a young man got a severe shock when he kissed the ruby lips of his sweetheart who is an operator in a central exchange. That it put the "kibosh" on the engagement. That this dope of the scientists will hardly keep the boys away and they will take a chance with the juice most any time. That the Order of Elks have a Ladies Auxiliary in the western cities. That as it stands now the Work beach people are not getting as good train service as they did a year ago. That the fence for the Soldiers and Sailors monument in the Goodwin Park doesn't seem to be going up. That somebody in ward five now wants the voting rooms over the Peoples' Market at the corner of Daniel and Penhallow streets. That a portable ward room is recommended by some of the voters of this district. That the Democrats of the ward are said not to be in favor of going to Water street.
